Rudolfo Anaya's influential 1972 novel about a boy growing up in rural New Mexico during the 1940s comes to the silver screen at last. The New Mexico premiere of the film (which was shot here) takes place on Thursday, Oct. 18, at the Lensic Performing Arts Center in a presentation of the Santa Fe Independent Film Festival, now in its fourth year. Among the other features to be shown over the festival's five-day run is the adaptation of Judy Blume's 1981 novel Tiger Eyes. On the cover: Miriam Colon and Luke Ganalon in Bless Me, Ultima.
